The screenshot shows the PayPal dashboard interface. At the top, a blue navigation bar contains the PayPal logo, a menu with 'Summary', 'Activity', 'Send & Request' (circled in yellow with an arrow pointing to it), 'Wallet', 'Offers', and 'Help', and utility icons for search, notifications, settings, and 'LOG OUT'. Below the navigation bar, the user's profile is shown with a circular profile picture of a woman, the text 'Hi again, Nicketris!', and a button 'Get the most out of PayPal'. To the right of the profile are three circular icons: a money bag with an arrow (labeled 'Send or request money'), a heart (labeled 'Celebrate Red Nose Day'), and a calendar (labeled 'Congrats! You're invited to apply'). Below these are four main dashboard cards: 'PayPal balance' (with 'Details >' and 'Add money', 'Transfer to your bank'), 'Pending' (with a table of pending transactions), 'Money Pools' (with 'Start Collecting'), and 'Completed' (with a table of completed transactions and a 'View all' link).
